SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

NOTHING LIKE IT

Its peculiar efficacy is due as much to the process and skill in compounding as to the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks diseases in the outset, or if they be advanced will prove a potent cure,

FOR WHOSE BENEFIT

No Home should be Without It.

It takes the place of a doctor and costly prescriptions. All who lead sedentary lives will find it the best preventive of and cure for Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Piles and Mental Depression. No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocent and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhœa, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness and Feverish Colds. Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest Aperient and Tonic they can use. A little taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."
L. M. HINTON, M.D., Washington, Ark.

ROMANCE.

Where brooding rain clouds, grim and hoar,
Drag and drip for evermore
On a sailless sea, a...l a sullen shore;

On the nether rim of a northern clime,
Where year to year it is winter time,
And all things taste of the salt sea rime;

In a brine bleached tower, with beetling walls,
Where the raven breeds, and the seamew calls,
But never a shaft of sunshine falls,

There lived a maid, from her natal hour,
To whom the willful Fates for dower
Had given a heart like a cactus flower—

Warm, and vivid, and flamelike keen.
Such was her soul; but her face, I ween,
Was the ice cold face of a polar queen.

And I—I came from a land of fire,
Where the pitiless sun rays parch and tire,
And the shower and the shade are a man's desire.

I had drifted far on the sailless sea,
I had come long leagues. For it was to be,
And her woman's love leaped out to me.

Time and distance, longing and hate,
Wooing and winning, and all things wait
For the rounded sweep of the scythe of Fate.

And the bars and the bonds, of sea or land,
That the stride of a destined step withstand,
Are as bars of pith, and as ropes of sand.
—Chamber's Journal.

Money Orders and Postal Notes.

New York city is the heart of the money order system, the postoffice there being the central depository of fund. At many postoffices in different parts of the country there is an excess of payments on money orders over receipts. In such cases the postmasters east of the Rocky mountains are allowed to draw upon the postmaster at New York, while on the Pacific slope they are similarly supplied from San Francisco and Portland.

Postal notes are not so popular as they used to be. They are very convenient for sending small sums of money by mail, particularly where odd cents are concerned, and they have great usefulness in sections where silver almost wholly takes the place of paper as currency, but they afford no security, and people are apt to be reluctant to accept them as cash.—Washington Star.

The Real Inventor of Telegraphy.

Weber was the first who established a permanent workable telegraph line, and thereby demonstrated the practical value of the electric telegraph. Weber's house in the city was connected with the astronomical and magnetic observatories by a line between three and four kilometers (over two miles) in length. The signals were made by the deviations of the needle of a galvanometer to the right and left and were interpreted according to a conventional alphabet. The use of interrupted or reversed currents did not permit the transmission of more than one or two words a minute, but the speed was increased to seven or eight words by induced currents.—Popular Science Monthly.

Miniature Trees.

The Japanese art of making miniature landscapes and gardens consists chiefly in starving the plants so as to retard the circulation of its sap or life giving juices. Furguson, who was one among the first of English adventurers to visit China and Japan, mentions the fact that he saw at Canton "a boxe about the bigness of a ladyes snuffe box, which did not containe a littyl dirt and sixteen tiny littyl trees, foure of which were in full blow, the whole boxe, trees and all so small that a man could put them in ihys mouth together."—St. Louis Republic.

The Thumb as a Danger Signal.

The Irish hero, Fingal, had the felicity to be under his own thumb, that member serving him as a danger signal, aching in a peculiar way whenever trouble impended, when he had only to put it in his mouth to become immediately instructed how to overcome the difficulty of the hour. So, by the pricking of her thumbs telling her "something wicked this way comes," did the weird sister know of Macbeth's approach before her ears caught his footfall.—Chambers' Journal.

Helping the Doctor.

If a physician has been called the mother should have a little book in which she should be able to note down all the most important symptoms from hour to hour. This record, shown to the physician, will be of quite as much significance as an examination of the child. And a little intelligent help of this kind on the part of the mother may often save the baby's life.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Some Poisonous Woods.

Mountain laurel wood is used in making combs. The leaves are poisonous to some animals. Black wild cherry timber is much valued in cabinet works. The bark is highly medicinal. The leaves, when wilted, are poisonous to cattle. Of dogwood, weaver's spools and handles of carpenter's tools are made.—Home and Farm.

Big German Trout.

The introduction of the German trout into this country proves to be very successful. They grow rapidly and attain great size. One was recently caught which weighed 9½ pounds and was 27½ inches long. The spawn was planted in 1884.—New York Times.

Why They Count.

It is undoubtedly true that little things count, and there is a good reason for it. The little things have to count. They get kept in after school if they don't.—New York World.

Some Prices in 1849.

During the gold fever in San Francisco clerks in stores and offices had munificent salaries: $5 a day was about the smallest stipend even in the custom house, and one Baptist preacher was paid $10,000 a year. Laborers received a dollar an hour, a pick or a shovel was worth $10, a tin pan or a wooden bowl $5, and a butcher's knife $30. At one time the carpenters who were getting $12 a day struck for $16. Lumber rose to $500 per thousand feet, "and every brick in a house cost a dollar, one way or another." Wheat flour and salt pork sold at $40 a barrel, a small loaf of bread was fifty cents and a hard boiled egg a dollar. You paid $3 to get into the circus and $55 for a private box.

Men talked dollars, and a copper coin was an object of antiquarian interest. Forty dollars was the price for ordinary coarse boots, and a pair that came above the knees and would carry you gallantly through the quagmires brought a round hundred. When a shirt became very dirty the wearer threw it away and bought a new one. Washing cost $15 a dozen in 1849. Rents were simply monstrous—$3,000 a month in advance for a "store" hurriedly built of rough boards. Wright & Co. paid $75,000 for a wretched little place on the corner of the Plaza that they called the Miners' bank, and $36,000 was asked for the use of the Old Adobe as a custom house. The Parker House paid $120,000 a year in rents.—Dr. J. W. Palmer in Century.

A Crowd Panic Stricken.

There is nothing so infectious as a panic. Even the brave man who successfully resists it cannot help feeling the first chill of the fear that seems to clutch him. He sees, perhaps, no cause for terror, and even if he did he is not the man to lose his presence of mind and play the coward. Still, for one horrible moment he is the victim of an influence outside himself and entirely foreign to his nature, which seems to numb his reason and his courage and threatens to turn him into a shaking poltroon or a frantic madman. With a fairly brave man this temptation to join in the riot of flight goes as swiftly as it comes. Others succumb to it altogether, and do not regain their reason until their safety has awakened their shame.

A crowd that is so seized can only be compared to that herd of swine, also the victims of demoniac possession, that fled down the cliff of Gadara into the sea. The fear has entered into them from the outside; they do not know what it is that they fear; they only know that they suffer fear, and they will perish rather than endure it.—London Spectator.

Bronze for Decoration.

Material which adapts itself admirably to the decoration of furniture is bronze. We have scarcely employed the metal for this particular purpose for many years, whereas the Europeans have been very skillful in its use for generations. Bronze has as yet failed to become widely popular in America, one reason being the preference shown for articles made in copper by the various electroplating and galvano-plastic processes, and by reason of the preference shown for brass on account of its more cheerful appearance.

Bronze has a mellow, sober hue, and its durability and adaptability to the various purposes required and the choice effects that can be produced by the application of bronze to all light wood, such as satinwood, ash, pine and so on, should recommend its increased use to our furniture makers. We have no doubt that this metal, with its grave, unobtrusive tones will be more generally used than hitherto in this country.—Decorator and Furnisher.

Buddhist Prayer Wheels.

In the sacred city of Ourga, the headquarters of Mongolian Buddhism, are numerous "prayer wheels," inscribed with prayers and dedication to Buddha, and the more they are turned the more religious they make you. Many of the more devout persons turn smaller wheels held in the left hand while manipulating the large one with the right hand. Curious bits of rags flying above the palisades of the inclosures of the town are "prayer flags." No Mongolian house is without them—the more the better—for each one is supposed to convey a prayer to Buddha.—Jewish Tidings.

Bagpipes in Nero's Time.

Bagpipes are generally ascribed to Scotland, where they have been in use for a long time, but it was an instrument upon which the ancient Greeks and Romans played. Nero is said to have performed upon it, and an old piece of Grecian sculpture represents a player on the bagpipes dressed in the fashion that is known today as the Highland costume.—Harper's Young People.

What a Tear Is Made Of.

The chief element in the composition of a tear is water, but with water is associated minute proportions of salt, soda, phosphate of lime, phosphate of soda and mucus, and when seen under the microscope a tear after evaporation looks like a very small fish bone, owing to the salines forming themselves into lengthened cross lines.—New York Journal

ALLSTON'S ADVICE.

Correct Drawing Is Essential to Every Successful Art Student.

Among some hitherto unpublished reminiscences of Washington Allston, the painter, in Scribner's, occurs the following advice to students:

A painter may be blest with every gift of nature, but unless he has acquired the art of design he can never express himself. If you would not be tormented by a consciousness of having noble and beautiful conceptions to which you cannot give birth, you must give much of your time to drawing. For this purpose I should recommend a course of study somewhat different from what is generally pursued. I would devote my attention principally to outline. It is perhaps well enough to learn how to make a finished drawing, but when you have once done that your time had better be spent in making drawings of the figure in highly studied outline only.

My own practice is to make a finished outline always before touching the brush to canvas. I draw the outline of such figures as I intend to drape, making out the figure as nicely as if it were to be painted naked. I take a large, rough piece of common chalk, which makes a broad mark, and then with my finger or a bit of bread I can rub out a portion and thus get a little more or little less much better than by using a fine point. When I have arranged the contour of my figure or head I trace the final outline with umber. I would recommend your studying your outline as highly as if it were not to be disturbed, but when you paint use your brush as freely as if you had no outline to go by.

This is the only way to avoid the hardness of effect which is apt to arise from a close study of the outline. I frequently paint my figures over the outline and let my background encroach upon the contour of the figure again several times in the course of the painting.

The process of shading with chalks or pencils is, more strictly speaking, painting, but it is painting with the very worst of materials. I know of no better exercise in drawing than the study of Flaxman's "Illustrations," and I would make it a rule to copy two or three figures from them every day. This of course I recommend as an initiatory study. After you have acquired a readiness of giving the air and spirit of the figure, preserving the proportions, you will then have recourse to nature and the antique with great advantage.

A Boy's Essay on Breath.

A little boy in the North Side public school handed in to the teacher his following composition on "Our Breath:"

Our breath is made of air. If it were not for our breath we would die. The breath keeps going through our liver, our lights and our lungs. Boys shut up in a room all day should not breathe, they should wait until they get out doorz. Air in a room has carbonocide in it and carbonocide is poisoner than mad dogs. Once some men was shut up in a black hole in India, a carbonocide got into that there hole and afore morning nearly every one of them was dead. Girls wear corsets which squeeze their diagrams too much. Girls cannot run and holler like boys cause their diagrams are squeezed. If I was a girl I would just run and holler so my diagram would grow. That's all on breath.—Minneapolis Journal.

Racing for a Wife in Singapore.

In Singapore the bridegroom must secure his bride in a race, and this custom of bride chasing is quite common throughout southern and eastern Asia. In Singapore a circular course is marked out, half of which is traversed by the maiden ere the word is given for the would be possessor to go in pursuit, in the hope of overtaking her before she has thrice compassed the circle; that achieved she has no choice but to take the victor for her lord.

The water chases in canoes, another marriage ceremonial of Singapore, is very similar to the foot race and both are usually of short duration, for the fair quarry is only too willing to be caught.—London Standard.

Man's Third Eye.

We must bear in mind that man retains in his anatomy not a few remnants and vestiges of organs which, no longer serviceable or required by humanity, yet played and still play in lower life many important parts. The pineal gland of our brain is such a structure. Descartes allocated the soul to this gland. Now we know it is simply a vestige of a median eye, which once upon a time, in our far back ancestry, existed on the top of the head, and which, for that matter of it, still exists as an eye in some fishes and in certain lizards.—Illustrated London News.

Bay Rum.

The best bay rum is manufactured from an essential oil distilled from the leaves of the West Indian myrtle tree. An inferior quality is made from the leaves of the English bay of laurel. The West Indian plant will not grow in this climate, and can only be seen in hothouses, but its fragrance is very remarkable, and it is said that the tree can be detected in a forest at a distance of hundreds of feet by the perfume of its leaves.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MRS. GRAHAM'S
CUCUMBER and ELDER FLOWER CREAM.

Is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind, and prevents sun burns and freckles, and blackheads will not come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of the skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady, and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali and is as animeics as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00, at all druggists and hair-dressers, or at Mrs. Gervaise Graham's establishment, 103 Post street San Francisco, where the treates ladies for all blemishes of the face and figure. Ladies at a distance treated by letter. Send stamp for her little book "How to be Beautiful."

ROOTING OUT VINEYARDS.

Gradually but surely grape vines are giving way to fruit trees in Sonoma valley, and in a few years more many of our large vineyards will be a thing of the past unless the price of wine improves. T. S. Glaister, owner of the celebrated Green Oaks Vineyard, has rooted up this season a large number of wine grape vines and planted in their stead six hundred French prune trees. During the past two or three years hundreds of acres of vines have been grubbed out in this valley, and once profitable and flourishing vineyards have been converted into prune, olive, pear, apple and peach orchards.—Index-Tribune, Sonoma.

And the men who are rooting out vineyards to-day, will be the ones who will root out orchards five years hence. The same has been true before and will be again. At the present time not one quarter of all the fruit trees planted in the State are in bearing. Does it ever occur to those who rush headlong into every new fad, where they will land? Do they ever think where they will market the fruit, that will, in the course of nature, be for sale six years' hence? The old lesson never gives people new ideas. The fall of the raisin business seems to have warned no one not to go to excess in planting other permanent crops to excess. We predict that three years hence the men now planting orchards so largely will be again planting wine grapes.—S. F. Wine and Spirit Review.

Would our cotemporary have the owners of vineyards plant phylloxera-proof vines in place of diseased vineyards, and prune and cultivate the same when the price of wine has been forced down to such an extent that the present ruling price for grapes will not justify the planting of resistant grape vines, which is attended with a great deal more cost than the old style of planting? The land of our grape-growers represents so much capital invested and in many cases is all the wealth they possess. Now, if it does not pay to cultivate a certain kind of crop on that land, what are you going to do about it? Most certainly try something else. It is the only and last resort of the farmer. It would be sheer folly for a vineyardist to maintain a fine vineyard at a dead loss year in and year out. Had the price of wine not been forced down to such an extent that grape-growing has ceased in many cases to be profitable, we dare say that grape vines would not now be giving place to orchards and the growing of cereals in Sonoma valley. Our farmers have not been carried away by the reports of great profits in fruits, but have been forced to diversify their grapes with other products to save themselves from the clutches of the four-story vineyards in San Francisco. Sonoma Valley is not going out of wine grape-growing entirely, but the day has passed when almost all the available land is to be monopolized by grapes. A diversity of crops in this valley means prosperity to our people. And the more they diversify the more prosperous will they become.

THE business portion of Vallejo had a narrow escape from total destruction Tuesday evening. A fire broke out under Brown's butcher shop and the flames ran up between it and the Howard House, the largest frame structure in town. It took six streams of water to prevent the spread of the flames. Smoke poured into and filled the hotel, and the dining-room was torn out to reach the fire. An hour later and nothing could have saved the block from destruction.

JOHN LONGWELL of Wellsboro, Penn., the man who vomited three snakes, is dead. A year or two ago the deceased was very ill one day and vomited two snakes of considerable length. A short time ago he was again taken ill and vomited a green snake several inches long. Longwell is supposed to have swallowed snake eggs while drinking at a spring. The body will probably be exhumed and the stomach examined.

SANTA ROSA proposes to remove the diereputable houses outside the city limits.

AT Bealville, Kern county, the two-year-old son of Mr. Stebbins climbed on a chair, and finding a can of concentrated lye within reach dipped his hand into it and then licked his fingers. The child suffered terribly and the doctor gives little hope for its recovery.

FRENCH vineyards have suffered immense damage from the icy storms of Easter. The crop was destroyed in many parts of Burgundy. It is expected that 75 per cent of the grapes will be lost in Touraine district. Cognac district also suffered severely.

There are Sarsaparillas and Sarsaparillas; but if you are not careful in your purchase, the disease you wish to cure will only be intensified. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla and no other. It is compounded from the Honduras root and other highly concentrated alteratives.

A Leader.

Since its first introduction Electric Bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among blood and liver medicines and alteratives—combining nothing which permits its use as a beverage or intoxicant, it is recognized as the best and purest medicine for all ailments of Stomach, Liver or Kidneys. It will cure Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation and drive Malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c. per bottle. Sold by Ed. Wegner.

Safety in the Midst of Danger.

This would seem a contradiction—is so in fact, to the eye. But experience has proved its possibility. Take the case of the individual who dwells in a malarious region. A robust constitution is no certain defence against the dreaded chills. What is? Recorded testimony covering a period little short of half a century proves that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely this. This continent does not limit the field where the medicine has proved its efficacy. In South America, the Isthmus of Panama, Mexico, everywhere in fact where miasma-born disease takes on its most obstinate and formidable types, the Bitters is a recognized specific in illimitable demand, and prescribed by physicians of repute. Patent, too, is it in disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and against that destroyer la grippe. It improves appetite and sleep, neutralizes rheumatism and kidney complaints.

It is interesting to note that of the 328,000 divorces granted in the United States during the last twenty years 316,000 were granted at the request of wives.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

One of the strongest arguments against human nature is that there are so few friendships that last. Nearly every one's worst enemy was a former friend.

Rev. C. F. Brooks says that his little girl is troubled with malaria very severely and that since he gave her Sulphur Bitters he never thinks of leaving New York for his summer resort without a few bottles, for they always cure his family, and are far superior to quinine.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Is superior to all other preparations claiming to be blood-purifiers. First of all, because the principal ingredient used in it is the extract of genuine Honduras sarsaparilla root, the variety richest in medicinal properties. Also, because the yellow dock, being raised expressly for the Company, is always fresh and of the very best kind. With equal discrimination and care, each of the other ingredients are selected and compounded. It is because it is always the same in appearance, flavor, and effect, and, being highly concentrated, only small doses are needed. It is, therefore, the most economical blood-purifier in existence. It makes food nourishing, work pleasant, sleep refreshing, and life enjoyable. It searches out all impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly by the natural channels. AYER'S Sarsaparilla gives elasticity to the step, and imparts to the aged and infirm, renewed health, strength, and vitality.

Cures Catarrh

THE Superior Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Peculiar To Itself In Strength, Economy, And Curative Power 100 Doses One Dollar Be Sure To Get

No other medicine ever placed before the public has won the people's confidence so thoroughly as Hood's Sarsaparilla. From a small beginning this medicine has steadily and rapidly increased in popularity until now it has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Its success it has won simply because it is constantly proving that it possesses positive merit, and does accomplish what is claimed for it. This merit is given Hood's Sarsaparilla by the fact that it is prepared by a Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process known only to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and by which the full medicinal power of all the ingredients used is retained. Thousands of voluntary witnesses all over the country testify to wonderful benefit derived from it. If you suffer from any disease or affection caused by impure blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

SONOMA, APRIL 23, 1892

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Star flour at Weyl's. The best and cheapest. *

Go to S. Shocken's for fine fresh groceries. *

For the best and cheapest groceries go to Weyl's. *

Farmers, if you want a good meal go to the Union. *

Schocken always has on hand fresh groceries.

The public school is to be reopened next Monday.

The celebrated Vacuum Lager on draught at the Union Hotel.

If you don't take the INDEX-TRIBUNE you don't get the local news.

The Jubilee Singers are endorsed by the press and public of California.

A heavy frost visited this valley last Sunday and Monday morning, but did no damage to grapes.

There will be preaching in the Congregational Church next Sunday by Rev. Mr. Chase of Washington.

A petition for a partial distribution of the Vallejo estate has been filed in the Superior Court of this county.

The date for the Sonoma and Marine Agricultural Association Fair to be held in Petaluma has been fixed for August 29th to September 3rd, 1892.

Geo. W. Bruggy, the convicted murderer, has been ordered to appear before Judge Dougherty of Santa Rosa on May 2nd, to show cause why the date of execution should not be set.

C. W. Englebert won the gold watch which was raffled off at the Union Hotel last Sunday. It was sold immediately after for $40 to F. Grothaus, who was subsequently offered $60 for the time piece.

Twelve orange trees only three years old, growing in the back yard of the editor of this paper, are covered with blossoms. One of these trees last year produced two fine large oranges. They are of the Washington naval variety.

A Strawberry Festival and fine Musical Entertainment will be given by the ladies of the Congregational Church and the very best local talent, at Union Hall, on the evening of June 9th, 1892. It is hoped that no lover of good music will fail to be present.

There was a slight rainfall in this valley last Wednesday morning, the precipitation being .20 of an inch. Thus far the rainfall for April to date has been 1.40 and for the season 20 18 as against 20 80 for a corresponding period last year.

Every Saturday at the Feeble Minded Home near this place visitors are admitted and those who desire to remain are entertained in the afternoon by a brass band, speaking by the children and a display of needle work that would surprise any one.

The Republican primaries held in this place last Thursday resulted in the election of Judge Breitenbach, D. D. Davisson and R. A. Poppe as delegates to the County Convention, which convenes in Santa Rosa next Monday to select fourteen delegates to the State Convention.

Cheap for cash—For sale at Badger's, Agua Caliente—A good express wagon, open buggy, new and second-hand harness, saddles, gridles, halters, etc., stoves. Also furniture, beds and bedding. Best curled hair mattresses made to order. A new bed and mattress for $3 00. Staple groceries and general merchandise.

The Union Hotel, under Mr Zeller's management is one of the best country hotels in the State. The bar and tables are supplied with the best the market afford. Trout fishing near at hand. The climate is unsurpassed and all who make the Union Hotel their home will be well treated.

Trout fishing was never so poor in Sonoma Valley streams in the middle of April. The fish are there but there is too much water and too much feed in the streams for good fishing. A few weeks of warm, dry weather will lessen the volume of water in the various trout-brooks when anglers may expect fine catches.

Farmers of Sonoma Valley should read the advertisement of Fochetti & Turley, general blacksmiths, machinists and dealers in agricultural implements, Glen Ellen. They are the agents for the celebrated new McCormick reaper and self binder. The senior member of the firm has also one of the best appointed blacksmith shops in Sonoma.

Johnny Steadman, charged with beating a Chinaman near Buena Vista station one day last week, plead guilty to battery in Judge Cheney's court last Saturday and was fined $30. Fred Fouts, it will be recollected was fined $20 for the same offense, he having also plead guilty. Judge Cheney also fined two more boys $5 each for participating in the disgraceful disturbance at Union Hall on Wednesday night of last week, making five boys in all who plead guilty and paid a fine of $5 each. Evidently Judge Cheney is determined to show no mercy to evil doers and he should be upheld by every good citizen in the town.

THE CITY TRUSTEES.

Newly Elected Members Take their Seats.

A special meeting of the City Trustees took place last Monday, all the old members of the Board being present. The first business taken up was the canvassing of the returns of the late municipal election. Clerk Breitenbach laid before the Board a sealed envelope containing the poll and tally lists of the said election, which showed that Henry Seipp and S. Schocken were elected Trustees vice Robt. Poppe and Ed. Wegner, terms expired; and the re-election of Clerk Breitenbach, Treasurer Cornelius and Marshal Sparks. These were duly declared elected and took the oath of office.

The new Board then proceeded to organize for business by the election of a presiding officer. H. Weyl and L. Litzius were put in nomination for President. Of the five members Henry Weyl received the votes of three and L. Litzius came in second best with two votes, and Mr. Weyl was duly declared the presiding officer of the City Trustees of Sonoma.

President Weyl before the final adjournment of the Board announced the appointment of the following Committees:

On Finance, Revenue and Taxation—Trustees Seipp and Litzius.

On Legislation and Ordinance—Trustees Schocken and Bulotti.

On Streets, Plaza and Cemetery—Trustees Bulotti and Seipp.

On Fire and Water—Trustees Litzius and Schocken.

The Board then adjourned.

Another Shake Up.

On Tuesday morning last at 2:50 o'clock Sonoma got another shaking up by an earthquake, which awoke everyone in town. The vibrations were from east to west and lasted fully a minute. The temblor was a mild one, however, compared with that of last October, which was of shorter duration but came nearer playing smash with things in general in Sonoma Valley. On the former occasion Sonoma appeared to bear the brunt of the shock, while in the case of the latter, which was general all over the State, Solano and Yolo counties got the worst of it. Many costly buildings were wrecked in Vacaville and Winters and other towns in those counties.

Another sharp shock of earthquake—a regular rattler—occurred in Sonoma on Thursday morning last at 9:50 o'clock. The vibrations were from north to south and lasted fully half a minute. No damage was done in this valley and very little excitement was occasioned among our people, who are getting quite used to "that sort of thing don't you know."

There was still another shock felt in Sonoma about 7:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The temblor was sharp but of short duration.

Death of Mrs. D. W. Jones.

Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, wife of D. W. Jones, died at her home one mile south of Sonoma, last Monday morning, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Jones came to California from New York in 1853, being one of the passengers on the steamer Brother Jonathan. In 1858 she located with her husband in this vally and has resided here ever since. She had been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past two years and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Jones was a native of England and aged 67 years. Her funeral took place Wednesday and was largely attended by friends and acquaintances.

Democratic County Committee.

The Democratic County Committee met at the Grand Hotel, Santa Rosa, on Monday. Members present, G. W. Sparks, J. V. Long, J. F. Bailey, J. T. Studdert, D. Hetzel, (L. L. Jewett, proxy), Henry Lawrence, (Gil Hall, proxy), S. W. Stump, Wm. Pool, (Gil Hall, proxy), J. B. Mulligan, John McMinn, Jr., T. L. Thompson. On motion H. Pyne was elected a committeeman in place of Joseph Seawell, removed from the county. On motion it was ordered that primaries be held in the respective townships on Saturday, May 7th, to elect delegates to a county convention to be held at Santa Rosa on Tuesday May 10th, to elect delegates to State and Congressional Conventions and a County Central Committee, the apportionment to delegates for the respective precincts to be one for each thirty votes polled for E. B. Pond for Governor, and each fraction of fifteen or more under thirty. It was ordered that all persons be allowed to participate in the primaries who voted for E. B. Pond, for Governor, or who pledge themselves to support the nominees of the Democratic National Convention for President and Vice President. Much interest was manifested in the proceedings by those present, and the sentiment seemed to be unanimously in favor of Cleveland for President and Geary for Congress—Democrat.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Personals, Weddings, Parties and Other Gatherings.

Attorney Duhring was in town last Monday.

Miss Bessie Armstrong is visiting friends in Sonoma.

D. H. Twing visited the city last Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Amy Pauli visited Santa Rosa one day last week.

Claire Hope visited friends in Santa Rosa last Saturday.

J. S. Pieratt of Glen Ellen spent several days last week in Santa Rosa.

Chas. Krause of San Francisco is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Engler.

Thos. S. Cooper returned last Monday from a visit to the County Seat.

The melodies of the Jubilee Singers are surprisingly sweet and sympathetic.

A Zeller, landlord of the Union Hotel, visited San Francisco one day this week.

Mrs. F. Clewe and children returned Tuesday from a visit in San Francisco.

Wm. Garrison of El Verano left last Monday for San Francisco where he will make his home.

W. W. Ellis, D. D. Davisson, Herman Laux and Adolph Zeller visited the city last Tuesday.

Miss Martha Wooster has been appointed Assistant Postmistress at this place by Miss Emma Hope.

J. R. Poppo, attorney at law, Santa Rosa was in town Saturday and paid his respects to this office.

C. Schuster and J. Reid will start this evening with the Native Son's from San Francisco for Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. Brown came up from the city last Saturday and spent several days at her country home, Pioneer Grove.

Deputy County Assessor Doud is again attending to his duties after an illness of two weeks with the measels.

You will miss a treat if you fail to hear the Tennessee Jubilee Singers at Union Hall on Wednesday night, April 27th.

Miss Ida Goodman of Shellville was a guest last week at the pretty home of Capt. P. N. Stofen and family at Santa Rosa.

Mrs. E. Loud came up from her home in San Francisco last Saturday on business connected with her property interests in Sonoma.

G. W. Sparks and Hon. Robt. Howe visited Santa Rosa last Monday to be present at a meeting of the Democratic County Committee.

W. W. Ellis, delegate from Sonoma Parlor, No. 111, N. S. G. W., to the Grand Parlor, which convenes in Los Angeles next Monday, left this morning for that place.

The engagement of Mr. P. J. Hein, formerly of this place but now foreman of the Kinnersley vineyard between this place and Napa, and Miss Theresa Roth of Brown's Valley is announced. The wedding will take place about the middle of May at the home of the bride's parents.

Sonoma Grove, No 75, U. A. O. D. will give a grand public installation and ball at Weyl's Hall on the evening of Friday, May 6th. The Grand Officers and many prominent people of the order will be present and participate. The price of admission has been placed at $1 for gentleman and lady, which will include refreshments. Sonoma Grove has a membership of nearly ninety and is in a flourishing condition.

Wine Sale.

D. D. Davisson, on Tuesday last, sold to Dreyfus & Co., wine merchants of San Francisco, 6,000 gallons of white wine for 9½ cents per gallon. This wine is of a different quality from that sold by the same gentleman to Hoelscher & Co last week for 27½ cents. The wine in both instances was made from grapes from the Craig vineyard and there was only one year's difference in the age of the wines but the cheaper wine was made from grapes that had been badly damaged by the October rains of three years ago.

Improvements.

G. Barbarin has had his bakery shop newly painted and otherwise improved.

Mrs. Fisher of San Francisco has had her property on Napa street newly painted.

Mrs. A. Lewis is having a new fence erected on Second street East north of Napa street.

The pretty cottage of Mr. A. Brown at Pioneer Grove has recently received a new coat of paint and has been otherwise improved.

L. Adler has had his large poplar trees on First-street East cut down.

New Suits.

H. C. Culbertson, administrator of the estate of F. B. Weilder, has brought suit against C. S. Wilson for money due on promissory notes.

Louisa V. Emparan, daughter of the late Gen. Vallejo, has filed a suit in the Superior Court against R. A. Poppe and others for an accounting.

For Dry Goods, Clothing, Groceries, Hardware, Cutlery, and also everything kept in a general merchandise store go to S. Schocken's, north side Plaza.

GLEN ELLEN.

There is some talk of building a Jail and Court House in Glen Ellen.

Mr. A. Harrison of the Mervyn Hotel has been quite ill for the past week.

J. H. Jewett of Decker & Jewett of South Los Guilicos, was in town last Tuesday.

Miss M. Martins of Sonoma is visiting relatives in Glen Ellen and will make a stay of one week.

We are glad to state that Mrs. John Gibson, who has been quite ill for some time past, is greatly improved.

A political vote taken at the Home for Feeble Minded Children some days ago resulted in a Democratic majority of one.

Robt. Chauvet, who came in contact with the hoof of a horse while on a visit to Sonoma some days ago, is improving rapidly.

Last Tuesday morning at about 2:45 o'clock a severe earthquake shock was felt here, lasing fifteen seconds. The vibrations were from northwest to southeast.

Miss Mary Fiannagan, who was well known in this vicinity, died in San Francisco last Tuesday. Her funeral took place in Vallejo, and quite a number of Glen Ellen friends attended.

N. J. Williams, who resides near the Warm Springs, has instituted a new system of irrigation in this part of the country by putting a water wheel in the creek and pumping water over his entire farm.

O. Zavits, who has charge of the Harney farm above town, was taken suddenly ill last Wednesday. The iron constitution of Orland, however, has banished all hopes of the Coroner and the sick man is at the present writing much improved.

REMINGTON.

Glen Ellen, April 20th, 1892.

Easter Services.

The Easter service celebrated in St. Francis' Church was attended by a very large congregation. The interior of this handsome edifice presented a beautiful appearance. The altars were handsomely decorated with lovely flowers. A tall cross made of calla lilies was prominent among the floral decorations. Mass began at 10:30 o'clock, being celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Father Brennan. The choir was strengthened by the assistance of Mr. T. Storm and Mrs Dr. Carl Wallizer, whose sweet voice charmed all who heard her.

At the Congregational Church the great Easter festival was celebrated last Sunday. Here the congregation found the decorations beautiful and artistically arranged and the singing by the choir excellent.

Easter service was held in the morning at the M. E. Church, which was profusely decorated with bright and fragrant flowers. In the evening a concert was given by the choir and Sunday school children which was rendered in a very creditable manner.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1892.

NOW HE GOT THE HAMS.

Uncle Ned Convicted Himself of Theft, but the Court Acquitted Him.

"Ol' Unc' Ned" was up charged with stealing four hams. They had been found in his possession, and as there was no getting around that, Unc' Ned sought other means of defense.

"Ya-as, youah honah, I 'mit dat dey was foun in my house; but 'pon my oat', sah, I didn't steal 'em."

Unc' Ned was a short, thickset man, with bandy legs, a short beard on his chin and an unctuous smile, which he now turned on "his honah" and the courtroom.

"You see, youah honah, on de night in question I was a-walkin home along de railro' track. It was purty dark, sah, 'n I couldn' see very fur. 'N den just all at once, sah, a man 'peared befoh me. Lor! I was frighten', sah, turrible frighten. 'N I stoppe-d-d, right stock still, youah honah."

"And what did this man do, Uncle Ned?" inquired the judge.

"Well, sah, I dunno wevver you'll b'lieve it or no, sah, but dat man hed foh bundles undah his ahm, 'n"——

"Which arm?"

"Foh God, sah, I can't quite disremember, but it must 've bin hees off ahm. 'N den dis man come up to w'ere I was standin 'n he says, says he, 'Say, Unc' Ned, heah's foh ham-ms.' 'N I s'pose, youah honah, now dat I see how eberyt'ing was, dey was the foh hams dat was purfiscated, sah. Now, w'en dat man says, 'Heah's foh hams,' I didn't say nothin. Dey might be foh hams an dey mightn', but dat didn't 'sider me.

"But w'en he went on 'n says, 'Say, Unc' Ned, you take dese foh hams home 'n keep dem foh me till nex' week-k 'n I'll gib you two ob 'em, co'se I took 'em lak any colohed gemmen would. But how do you s'pose dat I c'd tell dat dey was stolen hams, sah, is what I w'd lak t' know?" And thus Unc' Ned concluded his defense and took his seat, assuming a very grieved expression.

"Describe the man who met you and told you to take care of the hams for him," said the judge.

"Wa-al," said Unc' Ned slowly, cocking one eye and looking up at the ceiling to help his memory, "it's putty ha-hd to say, youah honah, fur it was dahk, turrible dahk. But ez near ez I kin recollec' he was a short, thickset sort of a man" (speaking very slowly), "wid kindah bowlegs, putty big, wid a bea'yd on hees chin, 'n ez near ez I could see he was kindah dah-k complected," describing himself as accurately as any one could have done.

Then there was a roar in the courtroom, but Unc' Ned was finally acquitted; as no one could prove that he had committed the theft.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Five Pennies.

A St. James avenue car was bowling through Chestnut street, crowded with people on their way to the opera house. Two ladies boarded the car. One, who patronizes the railway often and by chance with this one conductor, is always unfortunate in having no change but five pennies. She related her tale of woe to her friend and proposed to swap her five pennies for a ten cent piece, which was agreed upon. The conductor, equal to the emergency, took the ten cent piece, but before making change passed on to her friend, getting the five pennies, and returned them to the lady who first had them, to the glee of the passengers, who could not help roaring with laughter, while the conductor had to ram his glove in his mouth to keep in. The lady has decided to pay her own five pennies in the future.—Springfield Homestead.

Russian Women.

It is said that the peasant women in Russia are as ignorant today as they were in the times of Peter the Great, but girls of the upper and middle class receive a far better education than the women in Austria and Germany. The natives of Little Russia are very beautiful, but at the same time simple and unaffected. In the northern women there is more consciousness of the power to charm and a better knowledge of the manner in which they should exercise such influence. Russians are less sentimental and more constant in their love than German and French-women, approaching more closely to the practical English girl.—Detroit Free Press.

Sarcastic Advice.

It chanced that one of those injudicious persons, whose name is legion, on some occasion pressed through the circle gathered around Mr. Browning, and incontinently asked him to explain there and then a difficult passage in one of his own poems—a passage where probably the masterful thoughts elbowed each other for precedence. "Upon my word, I don't know what it means," said the poet, laughing, as he closed the volume thrust into his hands. "I advise you to ask the 'Browning society'—they'll tell you all about it."—Temple Bar.

A Minister Who Mended Soles.

A Baptist minister in Yorkshire for years mended shoes, preaching on Sundays. Respectable people sneered, but common people heard him so gladly that he effected more good than did many of his brethren who were attired in the bravery of gown and bands.—London Tit-Bits.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Ed. Wegner's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Inda missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma and all throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, He has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this receipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. O. A. Noyes, 850 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken "sick, and suffered as no one but a "dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time "I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I "had to throw it up. Then in a "few moments that horrid distress "would come on and I would have "to eat and suffer "again. I took a "little of your medicine, and felt much "better, and after "taking a little more "August Flower my "Dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I "have never had the first sign of it. "I can eat anything without the "least fear of distress. I wish all "that are afflicted with that terrible "disease or the troubles caused by "it would try August Flower, as I "am satisfied there is no medicine "equal to it."

She is Always Ready.

There are, as we all know—and too often regret—both men and women who are "all hands and feet." The man is simply pitied, but the woman—heaven help the woman! She is scolded, pecked at, sat down on by everybody to the fourth cousin and the third generation. She is next to a martyr. The bowels of our compassion fairly yearn when we picture the reveries of the tactless woman. In sheer eagerness to avoid contemplating her we seek her antipodes—the careful woman or the careful man.

Whether it is a merrymaking or the last sad rites; a picnic, a charity, a birth or a wedding, the precision exercised by certain careful men and women we have met is worthy of a monument. The provision is equal to all occasions, vanquishes all seasons. From the warming of a bed in the coldest night of the season to the laying on of a poultice, the exactness, the precision and provision of the man or woman who thinks of everything is so marked that it excites the admiration of the average, while the tactless one takes refuge in silence and can only look on dumbly. Should a fire startle the family in the early morning hours the caretaker, we are prepared to maintain, will be found with the right garments on ready to direct the horseman just where to squirt, while the tactless one is tossing a hat box and a music box out of a window or carrying an armful of shoes down stairs.

Nothing short of an earthquake or tornado could disturb the equipoise of the caretaker of the family. He or she knows precisely where to put their hands on pins and matches in the dark. The woman never forgets to salt anything. The man never was known to fail to post the letter intrusted to him promptly. These are the people we defer to. If we had our way we would erect monuments to them and see to it that their virtues were engraved in a fitting manner.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

"Fruit Manners."

"Fruit manners," as a girl aptly designates them, are a distinct department of table etiquette. Strawberries, hulled, are eaten with spoon or fork; unhulled, are taken in the fingers separately and daintily and dipped in sugar before being conveyed to the mouth. Apples, pears and peaches should be divided before being attempted in mouthfuls—although a ripe pear may be halved and eaten with a spoon. The same utensil should be employed with melon, though a fork which has one tine slightly broadened is often seen for this fruit. At English tables spoons are served for bananas as well, although when these are served as a single fruit course sherry or claret is usually sent around with the whole fruit. A few drops are poured on the plate, and the banana, stripped of its skin, is dipped in the wine and thus eaten.

Oranges seem to offer as many methods of eating as there are varieties of the fruit. The Florida fashion of halving it across the grain and taking out the juice and fine pulp with a dessert spoon is a neat way and gives one all the desirable part of the fruit; some eat an orange quite as daintily by tearing it in small sections and taking the fruit in mouthfuls; this method needs a little practice before being attempted at formal tables, as the inexperienced, with a juicy Havana or India river, speedily gets himself into trouble.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

How to Ride a ... Water.

A military journal of Paris, The Revue du Cercle Militaire, gives this account of the way a horse should not be ridden, and of the way he should be ridden, in swimming a stream.

To begin with, it must not be supposed that a horse always swims naturally and with ease the moment he is off his feet in the water. The animal under such circumstances has but one notion, to keep his head out of the water and to lift his shoulders as high as possible.

In doing this his hindquarters sink and he finds himself almost standing upon his tail, or at least in a position three-quarters erect.

In such a position, if the rider draws upon the reins or throws his body back in the least, the animal's hindquarters will sink more and more, his body will take a vertical position, and beating the water uselessly with his forefeet he will finally sink.

As soon as the horse gets off his feet in the water let the rider grasp a handful of the animal's mane, leaning at the same time well forward upon his shoulders, but without touching the horse's head. The rider's knees should be pressed tightly to the horse's sides, otherwise he is likely to be swept off by the water.

This is the only position which will enable a man to remain in the saddle and the horse to swim at the same time.

The reins must be held loosely and each well to one side. If the horse is to be guided in the water give the loose rein a little jerk in the direction desired. But it is in the highest degree important never to pull on the reins.

Making Fun of the Czar.

The following satirical production, purporting to show how the Russian court travels, appears in the German papers in the form of a letter from a Russian court functionary to his friend in Berlin: "Dear Friend—The following may serve you as an exact information. It is quite uncertain when we leave Copenhagen. In any case this afternoon at 7 o'clock—it may be also early the day after tomorrow; but quite certain tomorrow at noon. We shall, of course, choose the sea journey, for the land journey suits us much better. For this reason it is not yet decided which we shall prefer. I think we shall go by sea as well as by land. When we leave the steamer we get into the train—that is to say, on another steamer—I mean a steamship on rails, or rather an express train in the water. We are mainly afraid of seasickness, therefore we remain as long as possible on the ocean. For after all one travels best on terra firma; therefore the sea journey is as good as settled. We travel via Berlin, where you may await me at the station; but you can save yourself the trouble, as we shall not touch Berlin under any consideration. We shall travel via Stettin. When I say Stettin I mean Danzig. What's the good of us going to Danzig? Naturally we shall go direct from Copenhagen per ship to Konigsberg. Therefore an revoir the day after tomorrow in Berlin. We leave here in a week; where we shall go is quite still undecided."

A Much Delayed Wedding.

Miss Florence E. Howell, of Decatur, and George Vandyke, of Louisville, married at midnight, had an eventful experience. Twice had the wedding day been fixed, but it was postponed. The third time they came near missing it again. George expected his wedding suit from Louisville by express. It did not come, although the couple waited until the last train was in before starting on their journey in the mud, five miles distant to the home of the bride, where the wedding guests had assembled to witness the marriage. At 7 o'clock Vandyke procured his license, and as he was coming out of the office he fell headlong twelve feet into the cellar of the new court house. Later he started with the bride and four friends for the Howell place, when the singletree broke, the horses kicked themselves loose and ran away, leaving the party in the mud. Another vehicle was secured and the journey resumed. The party arrived at 11 o'clock to find some of the guests getting ready to go home. The wedding feast was cold, but the wedding took place at midnight.—Decatur Cor. Chicago Tribune.

A Steel Chimney.

In order to economize space and weight, steel is being used for the construction, at the Chicago exhibition, of a chimney which, when completed, will be 250 feet high. The steel varies in thickness from 5-32 inch at top to ⅜ inch at the bottom. The lower part of the chimney is lined with fire brick 8 inches deep, formed to fit the shell compactly all round. Above this hollow tile is used.

The weight of a brick chimney of this size would be almost 700 tons, while in steel it will weigh, including the linings, a little less than 250 tons. The outside diameter of the chimney is 9 feet 5 inches, whereas had it been constructed of brick it would be 16 feet 6 inches, a great saving of space being thus effected.—Exchange.

Why He Gave Away Overshoes.

"We have a shoemaker in our town," says a Quebec man, "whose business in selling overshoes has been ruined by a hustling rubber house, and who, this winter, to get even, had a great opening sale, at which he gave to every purchaser of shoes a pair of rubber overshoes, upon the soles of which was his advertisement reversed so that at every step the wearers take through the snow they leave his advertisement neatly printed in their tracks. The effect is magical and powerful. You can scarcely look at the snow any place in Quebec without seeing footprints with this man's name glaring boldly from them.—New York Tribune.

A Three Legged Steer.

A monster three legged steer was recently discovered on the headwaters of the Cheyenne river, in Wyoming. It is 7 years old, and weighs close on 2,000 pounds, and has horns that will measure six feet from tip to tip. The hind legs are perfect, but in front there is only one leg, located in the centre of the body on the part of the body between where the front limbs are on an ordinary steer and is about the size of two ordinary legs. The steer is wild, and when discovered took the lead of a small herd of mavericks and skipped out for a hiding place.—Omaha Bee.

The Changing Styles.

Ethel—Don't you know, dear, that that last year's bonnet of yours is very unfashionable this year? The fashions change so.

Maud—Yes, and it is so nice for you that they do change. The same fashions come back every three or four years, and now your bonnet is in again.—Harper's Bazar.
